Basic Guidelines for Posting Research Opportunities on the International 22q11.2 Foundation’s website

- The research is relevant to 22q11.2 deletion and/or duplication syndromes.

- The announcement is from a known or recognized researcher, institution or other research body. In instances when the submitter is not recognized by the International 22q11.2 Foundation, the Foundation will consult with its scientific and clinical advisors for vetting purposes.

- Scientific and ethics approval from the appropriate approval body (e.g., Research Ethics Board; REB, Institutional review Board; IRB) of the institution conducting the research is noted.

- The announcement includes a valid web address that provides more information to the recipient, including the source of funding and location of the research.

- Content approved by the International 22q11.2 Foundation.
